

2011 Solomon Trophy

Team USA: e pluribus unum

A slow start

lots of tight matches

but then we started,
in the words of the GB captain, “reacting to the interaction
somewhat more successfully”
than our esteemed opponents

and the Brits got that sinking feeling again

Jim rather enjoyed this.

In desperation, Mulliner offered to decide the test by single combat between the team captains. Here he gets in a good shot against our DH:

but our wily captain was too many for him, and delivered the knockout punch.

A very proud team ...

... victory tastes sweet.
